

Brunswick Anti-Rightwing Alliance:

Let's celebrate! The Anti-Rightwing Alliance celebrates the 70th anniversary of the liberation from fascism

This year, the day Nazi Germany surrendered, 8th May 1945, has its 70th anniversary. Since then this day has been celebrated as the day of liberation from fascism in many European countries. Even though this day was regarded as a day of defeat by a lot of people in Germany with the towns in ruins and the country occupied by the Allies, this day also marked a new beginning. For people in the countries raided by the Wehrmacht, for the survivors from the work and killing camps, for the forced labourers, for the opponents of the Nazi regime and for many other people who had been suppressed and persecuted by the Nazis this day was, is and will be a day of liberation.

In the last weeks we, together with hundreds, even thousands have taken to the streets against the islamophobic and racist BRAGIDA and have demonstrated for a multi-coloured, tolerant and anti-racist town. Now we would like to celebrate together on the occasion of the 70th anniversary of liberation.

This celebration shall be as multi-coloured and diverse as the Anti-Rightwing Alliance and the many social, political and cultural organizations and groups which have supported us during the last weeks.

A celebration for young and old, a celebration for everyone whatever her or his origin, sexual identity, religion or culture may be!

Saturday, May 9th, 2015 from 13:00 to 17:00 on the Kohlmarkt in Braunschweig
